GENERAL INFORMATION

EXHIBIT INFORMATION

On Monday, November 5, 2007, exhibitors will display a variety of educational resources, supplies and materials. The exhibitors will be on hand to demonstrate and display their products for your professional consideration. The exhibit hall will be overflowing with intellectually stimulating, high-interest products that will enable you to enhance your curriculum, lessons and classrooms.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS

CEA has scheduled conference sessions that provide information on exciting new trends and programs for teachers of youthful and adult offenders as well as the administrators that support them. The conference has been designed around specific strands: Academic, ESL/ELL, Vocational, Life Skills, Research, Substance Abuse, Technology, and Professional Development. Presenters will address the needs of probation/correctional staff and their high-risk populations.

On Monday, November 5th a luncheon panel of representatives from various state correctional education agencies will be sharing short presentations about current issues, challenges and successes. Audience participants will then have a chance to ask questions in an "open microphone" format.

CREDIT

The option to complete two quarter units of extension credits will be available for $130, payable at the conference only. Those who wish to receive credit must complete an assignment based on "at least" two sessions attended. Assignment descriptions will be available at the registration table throughout the conference.
